As a developer at Richard Carlton Consulting I have worked on projects ranging from websites to databases. Using HTML and CSS I have worked on several of RCC's websites. Redesigning, adding new sections and creating new pages with the company's code base and writing code from scratch. Using FileMaker pro I have built custom FileMaker databases as well as modify, improve and add features to existing solutions created by the company. Other duties include providing email based technical support and attending virtual meetings in order to collaborate on projects and stay up to date with my team.
